

INSIDER: Adam Wynne from American Storm

Las Vegas sexy newcomers, American Storm, are taking the Entertainment Capital of the World by storm. These seven boys-next-door have danced their way to center Strip after winning a year's contract to perform in a male revue at the Riviera Hotel & Casino during this summer's VH1 hit reality series Strip Search. Nashville native Adam Wynne is loving his new job.

Favorite restaurants: "After work a few of the guys and I like to head to the Firefly for their awesome pitchers of Sangria and tapas. It's just down the street from The Riviera (on Paradise Road) and on any given night, it got a high-energy vibe or a laid-back mood so you can just kick it and relax. I like the variety. Just three miles west of the strip is a great restaurant called Sam

Favorite activity: When you need to beat the Las Vegas heat; a cool spot to hit is Mount Charleston for hiking. It reminds me of my home state of Tennessee, and it's a quick 45-minute drive away.

Favorite exhibit: American Storm did a photo shoot at The Neon Boneyard for our 2005-06 calendar and, being a fairly new resident to Las Vegas, I think the exhibit demonstrates one unique aspect of Las Vegas' history. The defunct neon signs are so cool!
